SUSTAINABLE LIVING IN INTERIOR DESIGN
(4 SESSIONS X 3 HOURS)

Course Synopsis: Sustainability is key to many aspects of environmental issues and closely linked to the well-being of inhabitants on the planet. It is especially important to learn more about the impact and relationship between urban dwellers and their immediate environment. In order for us to live harmoniously and sustainably in our environment, it is crucial for us to understand the guiding influences and elements of our surroundings.

Objective: Participants will understand the definition of sustainability, the potential causes affecting our environment and to appreciate core issues of sustainability.
