

NAFA
80th Anniversary

NAFA ARTS FESTIVAL 2018

13 APRIL TO 3 JUNE

HERITAGE SATURDAY MARKET

NAFA Campus 1 Foyer, 80 Bencoolen Street

5 MAY | 10am - 5pm

Take a walk down memory lane, as we look back and remember our art heritage. This nostalgic weekend features exhibitions, childhood games and pop-up stalls, as well as the screening of classic movies set in Singapore in the 1960s.

南艺：80年校园生活

NAFA: Our Campuses, Our Stories

This exhibition highlights the heritage materials in the NAFA library, including photographs and graduation catalogues from the 1940s onwards.

A curated tour of the exhibition will be scheduled at 10:30am and 12:30pm. The tour will take about 30 mins. Interested parties can register directly at the Library on that day.

Moving Memories

Come take selfies in a series of art installations that captures the unique characteristics of our culture and heritage. Each showcase features a local artwork in diorama, placed in a mobile container to represent NAFA's nomadic past in Singapore's history.

Outdoor Film Screening

2pm

狮子城 (The Lion City)

(1960, 120 mins, Cantonese with Mandarin and English subtitles)
Directed by Yi Sui

5pm

Mat Bond

(1967, 98 mins, Malay with English subtitles)
Directed by Mat Sentol and M. Amin

7pm

花團錦簇 (Love Parade)

1963, 105 mins, Mandarin with English subtitles)
Directed by Doe Chin

MOVIE SYNOPSIS

狮子城 (The Lion City)

A young woman who works in a clothes factory in Singapore meets the young master of the factory and they fall in love, experiencing the tribulations of a difficult relationship, amidst a background of societal and political change. The first Chinese film produced by Cathay-Keris, the film features local talents, themes, and the developing city and landscape of Singapore.

Mat Bond

A wacky spoof of the James Bond movies, the titular character is an aspiring spy who gets himself embroiled in a series of capers involving an experimental elixir that evokes invincible powers in the person who consumes it.

花團錦簇 (Love Parade)

Gynaecologist Dr Ye (played by Linda Lin Dai) and fashion designer Michael Shi (played by Peter Chen Ho) are forever at loggerheads until they fall in love with each other. A romantic comedy with a parade of 1960s fashion, pop tunes and dance, Love Parade is one of Shaw Brothers' most sumptuous Hollywood-style musical extravaganzas. The film also featured cameo appearances of P Ramlee and Saloma, stars of Shaw Brothers' Malay Film Productions.

Share your photos taken at the event on your social media platforms with #NAFAArtsFestival

