

Workshop: A Day in the Life of a Performance Making Student

Saturday, 24 January 2026

11.00am – 1.00pm

Studio 10-01 (Campus 1, Tower Block, Level 10)

Discover what it's really like to be a BA (Hons) Performance Making student at NAFA through this immersive, hands-on workshop.

You'll take part in interdisciplinary exercises that illuminate the creative and collaborative processes behind performance creation. Experience how ideas evolve: shaped, refined, and brought to life through dance and theatre within NAFA's vibrant learning environment.

Why Join This Workshop?

- Gain authentic insights into the daily practice of a Performance Making student
- Explore creative methods and collaborative approaches used in the programme
- Meet and learn directly from current students and graduates
- Receive guidance on developing and presenting your artistic ideas

Special Privilege for Workshop Attendees: Audition Waiver*

Workshop attendees who choose to apply for the BA (Hons) Performance Making programme will only need to submit a dance solo or monologue online and attend an interview.

Join us to experience the energy, creativity, and possibilities within Performance Making at NAFA!
